

CREATIVE FAMILIES

Creating Ground

Would you like to join a new group and learn new creative activities you can do with your children?

Creative Families is a new project which teaches migrant parents and carers creative ways of engaging with their children during lockdown.

Each session we will teach you the skills to do a different creative activity. We are a women only group and provide a safe space to learn together.

Our sessions will also include information and tips on how to support your child's education and development.

Creative Families is free to join and we will post you the art materials you will need each week.

We will run 12 online sessions starting Friday 14th August and will run every Friday from 11.30am to 1pm.
